

Desiderio Consultants Ltd. has launched a blog featuring discussion and analysis in the areas of: 1) customs, 2) transport facilitation and 3) trade facilitation, with a particular focus on Africa. The aim of the blog is to share experience among experts in these fields and learn from each other, so to increase skills levels and further improve business/employment prospects. We also encourage to propose topics of discussion referred to one of the above 3 areas. For more information visit our blog
