'Bad trade' and risks of stifling local production in Africa, on our blog, an analysis of the consequences of trade models based on the export of raw materials and import of manufactured and industrial goods (as it happens in most of African countries).